(To be continued every Eighth Day)

By S. T. COLERIDGE,

---

ITS CONTENTS.

I. An History of the Domestic and Foreign Occurrences of the preceding Days.

II. The Speeches in both Houses of Parliament; and, during the Recess, select Parliamentary Speeches, from the Time of Charles I. to the present Æra, with Notes, Historical, and Biographical.

III. Original Essays and Poetry.

IV. Review of important and interesting Publications in London, Bristol, Derby, Birmingham, Nottingham, Sheffield, Manchester, and Liverpool. It will appear as regularly as a Newspaper, over which it will have these Advantages.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

I. There being no Advertisements, a greater Quantity of Original Matter must be given, and the Speeches in Parliament will be less abridged.

II. From its Form it may be bound at the End of the Year, and become an Annual Register.

III. This last Circumstance will induce Men of Letters to prefer this Miscellany to more perishable Publications, as the Vehicle of their Effusions.

IV. Whenever the Opposition and Ministerial Prints differ in their Account of Occurrences, such Differences will be always impartially stated.
